Sermon Notes

Galatians 5:1, 13-15

The region of Galatia was what is now present-day Turkey.

The book of Galatians has been called the Magna Carta of the Christian faith. The theme of Paul's letter to the Christians in Galatia (and to us) is the true freedom we have in Christ.

Paul wrote of the responsible use of freedom.

Paul's discussion of freedom not only speaks of the freedom we have from certain things, but also the freedom we have for or to certain things.

Freedom is not total license to do whatever we want.

William Barclay has written: "Christian freedom is not license, for the simple but tremendous reason that the Christian is not [one] who has become free to sin, but [one] who, by the grace of God, has become free not to sin."
